

The image shows the interior of the Oratory of San Francesco dei Nobili in Perugia. The space is characterized by dark wood paneling on the walls and pews. The focal point is the ornate altar, which is heavily gilded and features several religious paintings. The central painting depicts the Resurrection, with Christ rising from the tomb. To the left, a painting shows a saint in a brown habit, and to the right, another painting depicts a saint in a blue and red robe. The ceiling is also gilded and features a large painting. In the foreground, a large, dark, circular object, possibly a table or a decorative element, is supported by a bronze sculpture of a hand.
